Maury County, Tennessee

COLUMBIA • MOUNT PLEASANT • SPRING HILL

Discover Tennessee's Antebellum and Mule Capital in Maury County. Restored plantation homes, the ancestral home of the eleventh U.S. President James K. Polk, museums, historic cemeteries and other attractions offer diverse opportunities throughout our community. You can have a great escape in our 240 acres of natural recreation that includes biking, walking, caving, golf, tennis, fishing and hunting. Enjoy our historic downtowns and water recreation on the Duck River. Maury County's region offers three wineries, a Civil War Trail, Natchez Trace Parkway, arts and much more.

Visit Columbia, a Tennessee Main Street community that made Southern Living's 2019 'Best Small Town of the South' list and hosts the annual Mule Day Festival. Historic Mount Pleasant, Maury's Mayberry, which offers history, festivals and retail. And Spring Hill, home to historic Rippavilla Plantation and General Motors. Come enjoy our friendly southern charm, rolling hills, low cost of living and see for yourself why Maury County was ranked as "one of the best places to live" by Livability.com.
